2014 Fall Assembly Website Report

For those new to the area service meetings, the area website operations include the primary site aa-nia.org and the spring conference website niaspringconference.com. We also host a number of district websites but are not involved in their normal operations.

The only newsworthy item regards the spring conference site, which is being reconfigured for the 2015 conference. Right now it offers general information and a link to make hotel reservations. It will be fully functional well in time for online conference registration.

Our primary site has been running beautifully for quite some time thanks to Tom S. It fulfills the area's needs and is familiar to countless users. In the future we'd like to make it easier to use on phones and tablets, but that will require extensive rebuilding. Before doing that we'd like to know what capabilities and resources we could reasonably add to make it even better. Please address any suggestions you might have to mailto:webmaster1@aa-nia.org.

Your feedback is always welcome. Your questions and suggestions help us determine how to make the site the best resource it can possibly be.

Respectfully submitted,
John C.
